HELSINKI.—Note: The black flag passages in the following column were deleted by Russian censors when I originally submitted the manuscript for transmission from Moscow.

During my recent visit to Moscow, I was at pains to discover all that I could about the Russian attitude to the Western powers and what are the immediate political and emotional objectives of the Soviet government.

I met Molotov, the Soviet foreign minister, and Churchill, the British foreign minister, and the last of whom was an old friend of mine from the days when he was Soviet Ambassador in London. Vladimir Litvinov, who was in the Soviet Embassy in London, together with Dekanov, whom I did not meet, are all members of the Central Committee of the Communist Party. Litvinov is one of the few Soviet officials who are not exiled to the Gulag, and who are not exiled to the Gulag, and who are not exiled to the Gulag.

Tax Exemption

And single person: earning less than $1000.

7. He stated that income tax for farmers should be based on an average annual income of not more than a five-year period.

He said the farmer must consider ways and means of dealing with powerful monopolies and trusts which were squeezing Canada and the world.

He expressed the view that the government was not placing more importance on public works as a means of providing employment.

He advocated a public investment program plus various forms of public enterprise as the only lasting answer to proper development of the country's natural resources.

He called for better pay for scientists employed by the Canadian government.

MR. COLDWELL'S sub-committee expressed regret that the government had not proposed an effective unemployment plan which would require the use of our national credit for the purpose of making possible a large-scale investment program for public reconstruction of war industries for peacetime needs, the stable development of new resources, of scientific research and of our natural resources.

It regretted also that the satisfactory policy had been advanced for the elimination of government expenditures and no program was outlined for the expansion of essential expenditures for social security and purchasing power needs.

He stated that the government must get to the bottom of the situation, to corporations and high income earners rather than those in the lower income brackets.

"TAXATION BE Just and equitable, must be based proportionately on earnings. It is not what you pay in taxes but what is left afterwards that counts. Moreover, a reduction in taxes does not benefit a man who loses his job. It is a waste of money to provide themselves with the essentials of food, clothing and shelter when they are unemployed."

It must not afford more relief to the wealthy than to the poor. It is not what you pay in taxes but what is left afterwards that counts. Moreover, a reduction in taxes does not benefit a man who loses his job. It is a waste of money to provide themselves with the essentials of food, clothing and shelter when they are unemployed."

He recalled how the British Labor government in its recent budget had raised income tax exemptions as low as $2000.000.

HE REMINDED the house that the basis of the tax in the Canadian population earned less than $1500 a year was 12 per cent. More than 35,000. It was estimated that 15,127 were in the middle class, a family of five in health and self-respect.

He stated, therefore, that the government should have raised the income tax exemption levels. Income tax exemption levels, he said, who have dependents, should be exempt from all income tax. If they earn less than $2000 a year. The same exemption should be applied to the single person earning less than $1000 annually."

LATER OUTSIDE Mr. Coldwell said he had meant to say in reference to single persons that income exemption should be applied to those earning less than $1000 annually, not those earning less than $2000.

If the farmer's income tax was computed on the basis of income over a five-year period, he would be assured for an equitable tax based on his average earnings.

EVEN AT THE WARTIME rate of taxation, large companies had managed to more than survive. As an example he took the Ford Motor Company of Canada, whose plant has been built for more than two months because of a strike of 10,000 workers.

From 1939 to 1944, the assets of the Ford Company increased from $68,000,000 to $250,964,368 in 1944, an increase of more than $170,000,000 or 40 per cent. Mr. Coldwell, he felt that assets should not be allowed to increase at a seemingly unaccountable rate.

THE CANADIAN PEOPLE lacked more than 500,000 homes for their needs. Private enterprise had failed the country miserably, and the government must bring about direct responsibility for the solution of the crucial problem.

"May I request further to the minister of finance that he consider very seriously that the government make plans now, prior to parliament, a $1,000,000,000 housing program to meet the drastic housing shortage?"

shortages faced by the Canadian people. Certain it is that the production of family men in the per cent. of our people earning less than $1500 a year cannot undertake the responsibility of solving their own pressing problem of adequate and decent modern shelter."

THE GOVERNMENT failure to plan adequately for the transition to civilian consumer needs already had begun to reap its harvest of unemployment and insecurity. Lack of government supervision had allowed the country to experience a reduction which meant restricted consumption.

It was very sorry to see the government places so little importance upon public works projects. With so much unemployment in the country, with many schools, community centers and hospitals and roads to be built, with so much employment to be derived from these useful projects, it is not good enough to wait for Dominion-provincial agreement in respect.

MR. COLDWELL'S sub-committee expressed regret that the government had not proposed an effective unemployment plan which would require the use of our national credit for the purpose of making possible a large-scale investment program for public reconstruction of war industries for peacetime needs, the stable development of new resources, of scientific research and of our natural resources.

Atomic Bomb Scientist Says World War II—
The Last Victory
 "If Not the Last War, It Is the Next-to-the-Last V

WASHINGTON.—The atomic bomb has been a deadly subject right from the first and is growing more and more serious. But it has had its share of gaudies and cute stories.

For instance, there was the pronouncement of Dr. L. Sillard, one of the hundreds of scientists who worked on the project.

"I am optimistic," he declared. "I believe the future is uncertain."

 But a lot of the little things, the

The ROAD AHEAD

By Capt. HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

I GOT a rather interesting carful from a business-man friend of mine the other day on the question of starting a new business. Accompanied by a young ex-serviceman, who can get considerable capital to back him, and who is now looking around for a suitable business to start, we went in to see my friend to see if he had any time to offer.

"I WOULD TRY to start up a new business today at all," he advised. "It is difficult enough for established businesses to get the goods and materials they require to carry on. It will be practically impossible for a new business to get any materials at all."

They are trying to get started at a time when prices of everything—rent, tools, machines, and raw materials are sky high. You don't even know whether you can get supplies. The first few months are the hardest on any business. Under present conditions they will be so hard it is doubtful if you have one chance in a hundred of surviving them," he said.

THAT IS EXACTLY the condition which practically every serviceman who investigates the possibilities of getting into business for himself today finds. First they get premises, then they find that even if they can get a location, they can't obtain goods or supplies. And in any case prices and rents are so high they are almost prohibitive.

How ever, my ex-serviceman friend refused to admit defeat. He kept on questioning the business-

Noted Violinist Arrives in City To Give Concert

Just returned from a most successful tour of South America, Ricardo Odnoposoff, famous violinist from Argentina, arrived in Edmonton Wednesday for a Women's Musical Club Celebrity Series concert at the Empire theatre.

He is accompanied by F. M. Gee, Winnipeg, who organizes these concerts in association with the women's club, and his accompanist, Gregory Ashman, New York.

MR. ODNOPOSOFF, who is playing a return engagement here, was in Argentina just before the recent revolution, and told of demonstrations being held in the streets during his concert.

MR. ASHMAN, who is making his first visit to Edmonton, is a member of the staff of the Juilliard School of Music, New York, and is recognized as one of the world's leading concert pianists.

He toured Japan with Efram Zimbalist, and has made world tours with many other leading artists.

New Supervisor Reports Lights In City Schools Are Inadequate

With every exception, lighting in Edmonton schools is inadequate and school board trustees will consider setting up a minimum standard for all schools.

THE INFORMATION regarding lighting was set up for all schools in a report submitted Tuesday night to the property committee of the board by J. M. McEneaney, building superintendent. The eight-page report listed repairs and improvements which are needed in each of the city schools and will be used as information when trustees are making up budget estimates for next year.

It was suggested that a minimum standard be set up for all schools with regard to lighting and that repairs be done where necessary.

THE HEATING SYSTEMS in most of the schools are good and ventilation varies widely. Inferior decoration is another fault common to most of the older schools and one trustee suggested it might be better to consider dispensing with "patchwork" decorating in all the schools and completely redecorating a certain number every year.

Mr. McEneaney said that the regular meeting of the board, trustees approved a suggestion made by Mr. Elizabeth Stirling Haynes that an application be made for a preservation of a frequency for FM broadcasting.

It was pointed out that an FM broadcasting station has a radius of only a few miles and would be useful for school broadcasting.

NOTICE OF MEETING made by Mrs. Haynes which will be brought in as a motion at the next meeting of the board. The board is to take the lead in organizing public forums to enlighten the public on educational problems, both local and national.

As chief inspector under the western school inspection regulations, he will supervise the work of provincial government officers appointed as inspectors under the regulations and will be in charge of surveys of school buildings in Alberta and the Northwest Territories.

He will also act as liaison officer between the department of fisheries and provincial departments concerned in the administration of prairie province fisheries.

IN 1936 HE JOINED the fisheries branch of the provincial department of lands and mines and in 1943 joined the R.C.M.P. He returned from overseas in January of this year.

Prowse States Canadians Must Live in Present

In a ringing challenge to people to meet realities of the present instead of living in the past, Harker Prowse, M.L.A., entered the remarks of his address to delegates of the Alberta Farmers' Union, on difficulties encountered in the rehabilitation plans for the returned men of the war. He spoke to about 700 persons in attendance at the four-day convention in the Masonic Temple, Tuesday.

HE TOUCHED ON the displacement of families due to the military situation, and said he deplored the "shortsighted" policy of the authorities in whose trust was placed the welfare of the veterans while they were in the fighting front, doing a good job of keeping the enemy out of Ottawa.

"Rehabilitation and gratuities have been improved and increased greatly from the time of the last war," said Mr. Prowse, "but just how much further about is a question which these men are entitled to know. It can be obtained—and for almost everything else."

HE ALSO TOUCHED ON the subject of pensions for the aged, termed the present provisions as "merely inadequate," but a national disgrace.

Observing that "We have learned to live in peace in the past, but now we are in a war," he added that "we can solve the problem of production and learn to live together. I am not sure the good wouldn't be a sight of relief if he said it had burst into flame."

"If," he said in conclusion, "each of us makes a resolution to forget the personal welfare and do everything we can to help the nation, we will have 500,000 people working for us. But if we are concerned only with ourselves we shall have 200 people fighting against us."

HE HOPE TO pay our debts to the nation, he said, it is only by the power to assure that Canada does become a better place for people to live.

175,000 Albertans Get Chest X-Rays

More than 175,000 Albertans have had chest X-rays at the expense of the province, purchased with the Christmas Seal money and operated by the provincial department of health. C. B. Dickie told members of the Edmonton City club when he addressed their luncheon meeting Tuesday noon in the Madsen hotel.

Of the number examined 500 had "probably active" tuberculosis, most of whom are curable. Mr. Dickie emphasized the necessity of catching the disease in its early stages, both to facilitate its cure and to guard against its spread.

"Early, curable tuberculosis I found only by X-ray, and if tuberculosis is to be wiped out, it must be wiped out in its incipient stage, both to facilitate its cure and to guard against its spread."

He also outlined how the money is to be provided, chiefly through facilities and occupational therapy for patients in the sanatorium.

Tuesday evening Mr. Dickie was guest speaker at the supper meeting of the Y. Men's club in the YMCA, where he outlined the program of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association to members.

Three Cases Eggs Smashed "Omelette" at Intersection

Members of the city engineer's department Wednesday morning were hard at work scraping up the remains of an impromptu omelette that Tuesday evening was spread over the 100 street and Jasper avenue intersection.

Three cases of eggs, carried in the rear of a truck which was in collision with an automobile at the intersection, shortly after 3 p.m., splashed hotly over the street and eventually became more than a nuisance to pedestrians anxious to keep the sidewalks clear of the debris.

The driver of the truck, driven north on 100 street, by Alw Rubin, 2638 10th street, was struck by a westbound auto on Jasper, driven by Cecil Peacock of 1048 10th street, and the eggs were tipped out of the truck by the impact. Very little damage was done to the motor vehicles.

Speaks For Labor U.S. Appraises Old Equipment For Disposal

Appraisal of buildings and equipment being disposed of by the U.S. government in the Prince Rupert area is now going ahead, it was announced Wednesday by Wing C. L. L. of the military special Canadian commissioner for Northwest defense projects.

ALL PAPER WORK is connected with disposal of American property is being done through the office of Wing C. L. L. in Edmonton.

Buildings and movable declared surplus by the U.S. government will be turned over to the War Assets Corp. for use of federal government departments or for outright sale as may be decided.

Approximately 900 buildings and equipment in the Whitehorse area is expected to begin soon.

As WHITENOR says, the local point for construction of the Alaskan Highway and also proposed in construction of the Yukon line it will represent a big single problem of U.S. surplus property in Northwest Canada.

For the purposes of disposal surplus property is divided into two categories, movables and immovables.

Movables include furnishings of buildings and vehicles of all kinds that can be easily shipped away from the area.

Buildings are classified as immovables. They include the houses, including delegates, at the Alberta Farmers' Union convention in the Masonic Temple, Tuesday.

IT IS UNLIKELY that surplus Canadian surplus will be brought to Edmonton, Wing C. L. L. says.

Work of appraisal is carried out in close co-operation with American Army officials.

Indicative of a shift in the tide of major operations back to United States, as announced by the Edmonton Bulletin some weeks ago, a total of 700 civilian employees of the U.S. air base will be released during December, it has been announced.

The civilians, a majority of them Canadian residents in Edmonton, are employed by the Alaskan Division of the USAAF.

Of those to be released 300 will go on December 1 and the remainder on December 15.

Practically all maintenance of aircraft on the division is being done at Great Falls from now on where a part of debarcation for demobilized personnel is now being operated.

Edmonton was formerly the port of debarcation.

In addition the number of flights also has been sharply reduced by U.S. aircraft.
